We support the young generation with interactive museum activities

- We introduce the world of money to different generations through playful, interactive and experience-based museum education sessions.
- We offer educational programmes and learning opportunities from pre-school to secondary school age.
- Besides our permanent programmes, we actively participate in national events (e.g. May Day of Museums, Night of Museums, Autumn Festival of Museums and Researchers' Night)

The numismatic collection on display is internationally unique

- The Money Museum has a coin collection of over 60,000 coins, the second largest numismatic collection in the country.
- Our tasks include the professional administration, digitisation and protection of the collection. The digitised material is also available to researchers.
- The Museum also has a collection of banking history, which preserves documents and special artefacts from the Bank's past.

The Money Museum also hosts temporary art and professional exhibitions

- The museum has a temporary exhibition space where professional, artistic and contemporary exhibitions can be held.
- Each year, the exhibition space will host several exhibitions with professional or artistic themes.
- Currently, we have an exhibition entitled The History of Buda Palace (Saving Values – Creating Values), but we also plan to work on the following themes: Counterfeiting, Illustrations on banknotes.

In its unique space, events can also be held

- The Money Museum can also host a variety of small events and professional conferences.
- The venue can accommodate 60 to 100 people depending on the seating arrangements.
- We can provide on-site catering service, equipment and technical facilities for events.
- Museum visits, museum educational activities and individual gift packages are also available as part of the museum's services.
